

Research Technician Pharmacokinetics/Toxicology Department

Position: Full-Time – Permanent with a 3 month probationary period.

Synecor Labs has an opening for a Research Technician with animal laboratory experience in multiple species. Species experience must include small animals preferably rodents.

Candidate must be a responsible and dependable person in the field of animal research.

Responsibilities include but may not be limited to:

- handle and observe various species on a daily basis
- administration of medication
- specimen collection
- precise documentation of daily activities
- provide assistance to the pk/tox coordinator regarding study schedule, maintaining equipment and supplies, and animal treatment and observation.

Skills desired: Venipuncture, animal handling and observation, good documentation practices, medication administration: IV, PO, Dermal, etc., and performing veterinary treatments for animals.

AALAS certification preferred.

Requirements:

High school diploma/GED and at least 3 years experience in the field of scientific research working with animals or 1 year of experience and AALAS certification. Must be able to lift at least 50lbs.

Please send resume to Rosa Edsall: redsall@synecor.com